KORY HENKES

HEAD COACH

Kory Henkes was named head coach of the Ole Miss women's golf team on June 22, 2015. Henkes comes to Oxford after a four-year stint as head coach at GRU Augusta. Henkes brings six years of head coaching experience to Ole Miss. Upon her hiring Ole Miss athletics director, Ross Bjork had the following to say.

Henkes has been successful in building GRU Augusta into a perennial top-25 program over the course of her four years at the helm. The Jaguars advanced to the NCAA Regionals in three of Henkes' four years and played at the Raleigh regional this past season. Henkes also guided two individuals at the NCAA Regional in Casey Kennedy and Natalie Wille in 2013.

Under Henkes' watch, the Jaguars achieved their highest ranking in program history, checking in at No. 21 in the fall of 2014. GRU Augusta's Dick Wallace Coach of the Year in 2013-14, Henkes and her squad closed the season ranked No. 33 nationally with eight top-five finishes in their nine tournaments, including earning top billing at the 2014 Rebel Intercollegiate and the Lady Pirate Invitational. In total, Henkes guided her GRU Augusta squads to 17 top-five tournament finishes and 38 top-10 individual performances with two medalist honors.

Prior to her appointment at GRU Augusta, Henkes spent two years as the head coach at Charleston Southern. In her first season with the Buccaneers, they claimed the 2010 Big South Championship while setting a new league championship record for lowest 54-hole total. Under the tutelage of Henkes, Olivia Jordan-Higgins captured medalist honors at the 2010 conference tournament and cracked the top 100 in the national rankings (96th) while being nominated for NCAA Woman of the Year. The Lady Bucs registered the most improved GPA (3.51) among all Charleston Southern athletic programs as well as the highest team GPA. They were also recognized by the NGCA for having one of the top 25 team GPAs in the nation.

A 2004 graduate of South Carolina, Henkes is no stranger to the rigors of the SEC and was a member of South Carolina's 2002 SEC Championship team and a four-year letterwinner for the Gamecocks from 2002-04.

Henkes spent time on the LPGA Tour serving as a caddy to Kristy McPherson, who finished in the top 50 on the money list in 2008 and also caddied for her older brother Kyle, who earned his PGA Tour card for 2012 by finishing 15th on the Nationwide Tour money list in 2011.

DR. JEFFREY S. VITTER | CHANCELLOR

Jeffrey S. Vitter became the 17th chancellor of the University of Mississippi on Jan. 1, 2016 — just in time for the exciting Ole Miss win in the 2016 Sugar Bowl.

A renowned computer scientist and academic leader, Vitter previously served for five and a half years as provost, executive vice chancellor, and Roy A. Roberts Distinguished Professor at the University of Kansas. As provost, Vitter served as the chief academic and operations officer for the main campus in Lawrence and the Edwards campus in Overland Park. He initiated and co-led the campus-wide development of KU's strategic plan Bold Aspirations and oversaw the creation of the first-ever university-wide KU Core curriculum, expansion of the Schools of Engineering and Business, multidisciplinary research and funding around four strategic initiatives, major growth of technology commercialization and corporate partnerships, and administrative reorganization and efficiencies.

Before joining KU, Vitter was on the faculty in the Department of Computer Science and Engineering at Texas A&M University. At Texas A&M, he served as provost and executive vice president for academics and oversaw the academic mission of the university in Galveston, Texas, and Doha, Qatar.

From 2002 to 2008, Vitter served as the Frederick L. Hovde Dean of the College of Science and professor of computer science at Purdue University, where he led the development of two strategic plans, establishing a dual focus of excellence in core departments and in multidisciplinary collaborations. He oversaw net growth in the college by roughly 60 faculty members and launched the collaborative design of an innovative outcomes-based curriculum.

At Duke University, Vitter held a distinguished professorship as the Gilbert, Louis and Edward Lehman Professor. He served for eight and a half years as chair of the Department of Computer Science in the College of Arts and Sciences and led it to significant gains in ratings.

From 1980 through 1992, Vitter progressed through the faculty ranks and served in various leadership roles in the Department of Computer Science at Brown University.

Dr. Vitter's research expertise deals with big data and data science, especially the algorithmic aspects of processing, compressing, and communicating massive amounts of information. He has been elected a Fellow of the Guggenheim Foundation, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Association for Computing Machinery, and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. He is a National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator, a Fulbright Scholar, and an IBM Faculty Development Awardee.

A native of New Orleans, Vitter graduated in mathematics with highest honors from the University of Notre Dame in 1977 and earned a Ph.D. under Don Knuth in computer science at Stanford University in 1980. He also holds an MBA in 2002 from Duke University.

Dr. Vitter's wife Sharon is a native Kansan and alumna of KU. Their three children, Jillian, Scott, and Audrey, were born in Providence, RI and are Notre Dame alumni. Jillian, who also received a medical degree from Georgetown University, is chief resident in anesthesia at the University of Colorado. Scott, a former U.S. Army Ranger, is a graduate student in mechanical engineering at the University of Texas at Austin. Audrey is an associate with G.E. Corporate Audit Staff in Greenville, SC. All are avid sports fans.

ROSS BJORK | ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Ross Bjork was announced on March 21, 2012 as the seventh full-time Director of Athletics at Ole Miss and at age 43, is the youngest AD among power five conference institutions. In just three years, Bjork's tenure with the Rebels has produced energetic hires, structural progress, team success and a new spirit surrounding Ole Miss Athletics.

Bjork set the tone early by hiring one of the country's top rising coaches in Matt Insell (women's basketball) and has since brought Steven McRoberts (volleyball), Mike Smith (softball), Chris Malloy (men's golf) and Kory Henkes (women's golf) on board, while promoting Toby Hansson, one of college tennis' best assistant coaches, to head men's coach. He also appointed three executive level administrators for external relations, academic support and facilities/game operations.

The external relations post was a new umbrella position at the center of Bjork's reorganization of that area of Ole Miss Athletics, including the Foundation, ticket operations, marketing and communications and the relationship with Ole Miss Sports Properties. Progress has continued in that division with the rebranding of the Ole Miss Athletics Foundation and a partnership with new multi-media rightsholder, IMG Properties.

Bjork also created the unit for Health and Sports Performance, which combined sports medicine, strength and conditioning, nutrition and counseling services and added a local orthopedic sports medicine component that provides primary sports medicine care for all student-athletes.

Bjork's vision in facilities resulted in a development plan for the Manning Center, which was renamed to honor Olivia and Archie Manning. The $12.5 million renovation included the Grill at 1810 (a full service dining facility), the Williams-Reed Football Foyer, Burns team meeting room, VanDevender Family locker room, weight room, player lounge and visuals throughout the complex.

Ole Miss has enjoyed unprecedented support under Bjork. The 2015 campaign marks the third straight to sell out of football season tickets, while season attendance records have been shattered each of the last two seasons. Baseball finished second in the nation in attendance in 2015, extending a streak of 10 straight seasons in the top five. The athletics budget has risen from $62 to $96 million, and donations received for 2014-15 reached a record high of $35 million. As of October 2015, the Forward Together capital campaign has risen from $62 to $155 million in cash and pledges and goal has increased to $200 million. Campaign plans include the Pavilion at Ole Miss to open during the 2015-16 season, a north end zone expansion and suite renovations at Vaught-Hemingway Stadium, renovation of the Gillom Center, FedEx Academic Support Center and Starnes Athletic Training Center, as well as other future projects.

Bjork's leadership has also translated to immediate success in the competitive arena. In 2014-15, Ole Miss was one of only two schools in the nation to make a "New Year's Six" bowl and the NCAA Tournament in men's basketball and baseball. The football team's bowl berth marked their third in Hugh Freeze's first three seasons, which was preceded by a two-year postseason drought. The staff also assembled a top-five recruiting class in 2013, the highest ranked in school history.

Other highlights include the first College World Series appearance in 42 years, as the baseball team reached the final four in Omaha and captured the SEC Western Division title in 2014. After a 10-year absence, men's basketball has advanced in the NCAA Tournament two of the last three seasons, including 2013 when it claimed the SEC Tournament Championship. Baseball and men's hoops are among nine Rebel programs to earn postseason berths under Bjork's watch, along with soccer, men's tennis, women's tennis, men's golf, women's golf, men's track and women's track.

Bjork's reign has also featured a pair of national championships, as Sam Kendricks took home the pole vault title at both the 2013 and 2014 NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships. The 2013 SEC West champion men's tennis team also vied for a national title, as the doubles team of Nic Scholtz and Jonas Lutjen advanced to the final four. Men's outdoor track and field registered a program-best eighth-place finish at the 2013 NCAA Championships, while men's tennis finished top-10 in the national polls that season.

Off the field, Bjork's emphasis on academics resulted in a record 2.90 GPA among the student-athlete population in 2014-15, and he has established a goal of 3.0 moving forward. In the community, student-athletes participated in more than 30 service projects, and even bigger plans are on the horizon. Throughout his career, Bjork has placed a great importance on diversity, and in 2013, the athletics department partnered with the William Winter Institute for Racial Reconciliation to establish a Racial Reconciliation Week which took place during the 2013 football season.

Bjork's first full week at the post in 2012 was spent on the inaugural Rebel Road Trip, a six-day, 16-stop tour of the region that served to unite the Rebel fanbase. In the first three years of the tour, Bjork and Co., visited approximately 12,000 fans. He carried the momentum from the first RRT into the launch of a major sales campaign for football season tickets, which included television and radio advertising, billboards, internet marketing and a new out-bound telemarketing call center.

Bjork arrived in Oxford after a stint as Director of Athletics at Western Kentucky University, where he quickly established an atmosphere of success. After Bjork made a midseason coaching change, the Hilltopper men's basketball team went on to capture the 2012 Sun Belt Conference Tournament title and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Women's Volleyball won the conference regular season and tournament in 2011 and reached the NCAA tournament each of his last two years, while men's and women's cross country each won conference team titles in 2011. WKU's football program posted the greatest one-season improvement in conference wins in the history of the Sun Belt in posting a 7-1 league mark and second-place conference finish. WKU football also signed the conference's top recruiting class each of his last two seasons.

During his tenure, each of WKU's men's and women's athletic teams exceeded the NCAA required 925 Academic Progress Report Rate (APR), and WKU had more individuals honored for their academic achievements by the Sun Belt Conference than any other institution in 2011-12. For the first time in program history, the overall cumulative average GPA was over 3.0 for all 391 student-athletes and 228 maintained a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher. Ten of the university's 15 athletic programs posted a cumulative team GPA of 3.0 or better.

The youngest athletics director of the 120 NCAA FBS programs when hired at WKU, Bjork has an extensive career in intercollegiate athletics with two decades of experience as an administrator and student-athlete, having worked on the senior staffs at UCLA, the University of Miami and the University of Missouri. He began his administrative career at WKU as an Assistant Development Coordinator in 1996-97.

AFTER A SUCCESSFUL FALL, SENIOR ABBY NEWTON OF KATY, TEXAS IS POISED TO HAVE A CAREER SEASON UNDER NEW DIRECTION IN 2016.

FALL 2015 REVIEW

The Ole Miss women's golf team is all eyes on spring preparations, after wrapping up their fall tournaments in October. The group is already looking forward to teeing off in February after a much improved fall season.

After improving their fall scores significantly from a year ago, the Rebels are going into the holiday season with more confidence than ever. Head Coach Kory Henkes is pleased with where her team is ONE semester into her first season.

"I think we had a great fall season," Henkes said. "It was successful. We had two second place finishes, a fourth and a ninth and looking at the girls averages compared to last year they've all dropped significantly."

One scoring average that is much better is senior Abby Newton (Katy, Texas) who sports a 72.67 average through four tournaments with three top-10 finishes. She finished with a 77.72 average in 2014-15.

It's the senior leadership that comes up more often than not in conversation with Henkes. Alison Hovatter (Meridianville, Ala.), Katie Voll (Alpharetta, Ga.) and Abby Newton (Katy, Texas) are all gearing up for their final few months at Ole Miss, and the coaching staff will be looking to them to continue anchoring the team.

"It's good to have our seniors really step up," Henkes added. "I'm looking forward to seeing what they can do their final semester in the spring."

Another much improved player is junior Madisen Bentley (University Place, Wash.) who has improved her scoring average to 74.50 this fall. Her top finish came at the CSU Fall Invitational where she placed third after firing a 74-68-69—211.

During that tournament, the team posted a program-best 278 in the second round, while Newton tied the best round in school history after her 7-under par 65. Henkes says there's not just one thing leading to the improvement.

"It's a combination of a few things," Henkes said. "A lot of it's attitude, and Drew (Belt) and I spend a lot of time with them on the course during tournaments and I think they like us walking with them throughout the day. Golf is 99% attitude a lot of times; just knowing you can do it and believing in yourself."

The Rebels next hit the course Feb. 22 when they head to The Gold Rush tournament hosted by Long Beach State University. Also highlighting the spring slate is a trip to Baton Rouge for the LSU Tiger Golf Classic March 20 and the 2016 Rebel Intercollegiate at the Ole Miss Golf Course April 1-3.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE REBEL INTERCOLLEGIATE

Ole Miss will host the eighth-annual Rebel Intercollegiate in 2016 at the Ole Miss Golf Course in Oxford, Miss. The three-day event will take place April 1-3 with practice rounds being held March 31st.

The Rebels finished in ninth place in 2015 after scoring a 298-295-303--896. Ole Miss was led by senior Stani Schiavone and sophomore Maria Toennessen who fired a 70-74-72--216 and a 74-72-75--221 respectively. The inaugural Rebel Intercollegiate in 2009 was held at the Country Club of Oxford. Former two-time All-American Dori Carter captured medalist honors, shooting a 71 on the final day. Carter finished the day tied for first place with Linn Gustafsson of Tulane, as each player finished the event with a total score of 217, resulting in a sudden death playoff beginning on the fourth hole.

After posting a bogey on the fourth hole earlier in the afternoon, Carter sunk a putt from just off the green to earn a birdie and the tournament championship.

"It's always nice to have a home tournament where we can compete at The Ole Miss Golf Club in front of friends and family," said head coach Kory Henkes. "We love hosting teams from all over the country and showing them all of the great things that Oxford has to offer. We will have 15 teams competing so it will be a good test for our team and a great way to finish off the regular season before we start our post season play."

This year's 15-team field includes Ole Miss, ETSU, Fresno State, Harvard, James Madison, Memphis, Murray State, Redlands CC, Samford, Southern Miss, Troy, Tulsa, Western Carolina, Western Kentucky and Yale.

ALL-AMERICANS

ALL-AMERICANS

Dori Carter ended her career as one of the top golfers in the history of the program earning All-America honors in 2008 and 2009.

Carter led the Rebels back to postseason play for the first time since 2004, as the Rebels competed in the NCAA East Regional in 2009. She also earned All-SEC first team honors for the second straight year and won her first career tournament title, capturing medalist honors at the Rebel Intercollegiate. Carter finished with four top-five and four top-10 finishes on the year.

A native of Valdosta, Ga., Carter ranks in the top two in nearly every category at Ole Miss, including the lowest stroke average in a season with a 72.84 in 2008-09.

Carter became the first All-American in the history of the Ole Miss women's golf program, when she was named a Duramed FUTURES Tour Honorable Mention All-American by the National Golf Coaches Association (NGCA) in 2008. She ended the year ranked No. 24 in the nation.

Carter tied for 20th in the 2008 NCAA East Regional in her first ever NCAA appearance. She became the first Lady Rebel since 2004 to compete in the NCAA Championships.

In addition, Carter earned All-SEC first team honors and was the top finisher for the Rebels in every tournament, including four top-five and five top-10 finishes.

At the Crimson Tide Classic, Carter carded a school-record 65 in the final round to finish second, narrowly missing her first tournament title by two strokes. Led by Carter's school-best three-round total of 11-under 205 the Rebels took third in the tournament.

She helped the Rebels earn a top-five showing at the Gator Suntrust Invitational, as they equaled the second-lowest 54-hole score (892) in program history.

Ole Miss earned a berth in the 2003 NCAA East Regional held at Wake Forest University and then returned to the East Regional at the University of Central Florida in Orlando, Fla., in 2004. The Rebels qualified for the 2009 NCAA East Regional held at The University of Florida in Gainesville and the 2011 East Regional, which was held in Daytona Beach, Fla.
